

A four-panel comic strip featuring stylized, colorful characters (orange, pink, and blue) with simple facial features. The characters are arranged in a row, and their heads are the primary focus. The background is white for the first three panels and bright green for the fourth. The characters are speaking in speech bubbles, each claiming to be the best mobile operating system. The first panel shows an orange character saying 'ANDROID!!' and a pink character. The second panel shows the orange character saying 'IOS!!' and the pink character. The third panel shows the orange character saying 'HARMONY!!' and the pink character. The fourth panel shows the orange character saying 'Windows Phone' and the pink character. The blue character is also present in the third and fourth panels.
